

HEAVY RAIN INC.
FROZEN

The birds are sitting on a tree, but they don't fly away
I thought they have no fear, why they don't fly away?
I wonder should I touch them?... How?
So o.k., my babe, I'll touch them now
Na na na... yeah

They were frozen 'cause they didn't want to fly away
From each other; they loved every minute they stayed
I've found them far away, look, the birds, I couldn't hear them sing
They hadn't moved their chests, but they do still live
I think - I believe, oh I think – I believe!

The birds are sitting on a tree, they are singing night and day
The sun went down to chill the sound and the sky was grey
Oh the birds - should I touch them? How?
So o.k., my babe, I'll touch them now....
Na na na... yeah

They were frozen 'cause they didn't want to fly away
From each other; they loved every minute they stayed
I've found them far away, look, the birds, I couldn't hear them sing
They hadn't moved their chests, but they do still live
I think - I believe, oh I think – I believe!

I think - I believe, oh I think – I believe!

And so you and I, what are we looking for?
It doesn't matter if our love would have gone
Well, my life is just a bubble flying in the the wind with no goal
I wanna tell you, babe
I love you so!
I love you so!
I love you so!
